One Card, Multiple Pathways

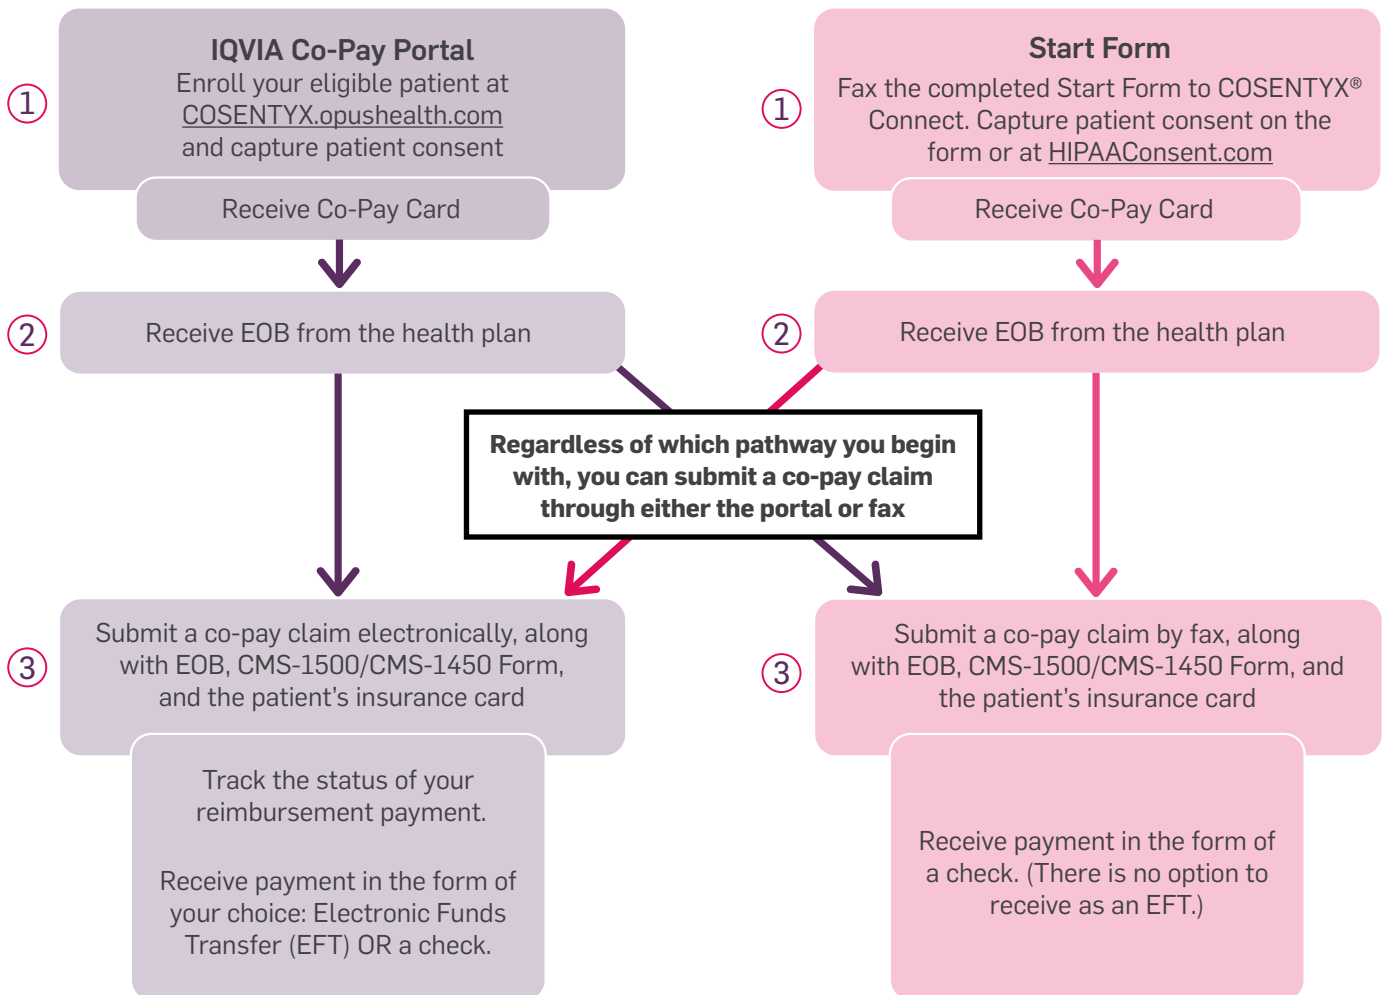

Whether co-pay claims are managed by the office or the patient, there's a variety of ways to access co-pay support for COSENTYX® (secukinumab).

HCP-Managed Claims

If your office will manage co-pay claims, you can initiate enrollment through the IQVIA Co-Pay Portal or the Start Form. Claims can then be managed through the portal or by fax.

HCP Co-Pay Support Pathways

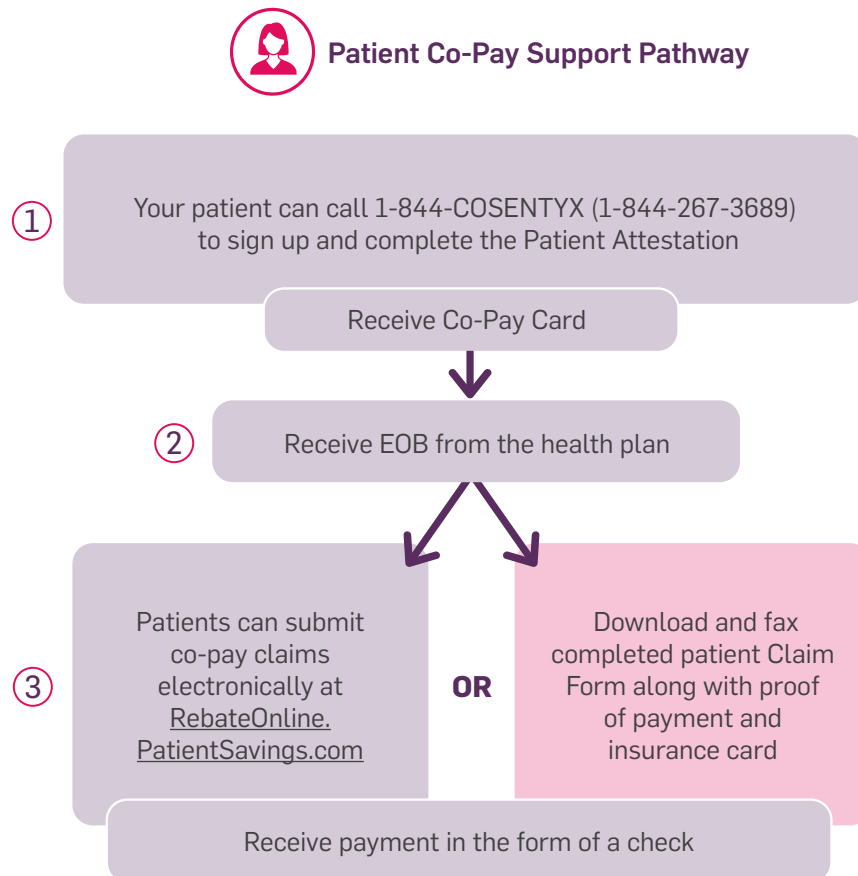

Our Co-Pay Program provides the flexibility to manage co-pay claims in multiple ways that fit your workflow, whether through your office or patient managed.

Patient-Managed Claims

If your office is not managing co-pay claims on your patient's behalf, patients are able to pay up front and get reimbursed via the COSENTYX[®] (secukinumab) Co-Pay Program. Your patients can manage claim reimbursement in 2 ways:

- Patient Co-Pay Claim Form
- Patient rebate online at RebateOnline.PatientSavings.com

If you are obtaining the IV formulation of COSENTYX through a specialty pharmacy (SP) (white bagging), the Co-Pay Card needs to be provided to the SP for them to manage claims.

- Your practice should provide the Co-Pay Card number when sending over the prescription
- The patient can also provide the number if contacted by the SP

While these graphics represent the most common pathways, others do exist. See the back page for other scenarios to keep in mind.

Key Considerations for Co-Pay Claim Submissions

HCP enrollment via the IQVIA Co-Pay Portal

- The most streamlined pathway for the IV formulation of COSENTYX[®] (secukinumab) is the IQVIA Co-Pay Portal
- If your patient already has a Co-Pay Card number, use the number provided

Patients Previously Receiving the Subcutaneous Formulation of COSENTYX[®] (secukinumab)

- For patients with a Co-Pay Card previously receiving the subcutaneous formulation of COSENTYX:
 - Your patients do not need a new Co-Pay Card
 - Continue to use the same Co-Pay Card number in any pathway to submit a claim

Patients Who Self-Enroll

- For patients who self-enroll through [COSENTYX[®] Connect](#) or a Start Form, claims can be managed by the patient or their HCP
